Following the footsteps of my ancestor

Hello ! I'm Leo. I go to school in Samoëns.
Today, my teacher asked us to tell the story of a member of our family.
Mom advised me to choose my great-great-grandmother,
who was a wonderful woman.
It seems that by walking around the village,
I can find many clues about her.
Do you want to help me retrace her story ?
Yes ! Great ! Thank you very much.

First, go to her old house which is located at the intersection of "Chemin de la Cour" and "Route du Grand Massif".
The easiest way is to turn right after the butcher shop
the "Veau Gras" and then continue straight ahead.
Use the map on the last page to help you to find it.

Now that you've arrived,
you'll notice that her house has been transformed into an establishment that honours the good food
she used to make for her family.
What do you think her nickname was ?

Let's go back to the center of the village by following "Route du Grand Massif".

Apparently, my great-great-grandmother loved flowers.

When you see the photographer "Mille Images", look across the road.

You'll see her favorite flower drawn on the wall of this chalet :

Let's go to the cinema which is located at the beginning of "Rue des Billets".

She often visited this place when she was my age.

But, in 1925, this building was called differently :

Go straight on until "Place du Gros Tilleul". Behind the town hall, you'll find the place where she liked to make music and see exhibitions :

The 1 -----

Mom always told me that she was a great musician and that in her honour we could see on the facade
of this building what instrument she played :

The 6 -----

Let's take the direction of "Rue du Parc" towards her favorite place.
She spent hours walking in this place where she observed the plants and admired the view of Samoëns.

Have you guessed what place it was ?

The 5 -----

All right, keep going down "Grande Rue".
There's a portrait of her and her husband at the entrance of a hotel.

I heard they met on the mountain pastures.

Ah yes, look up, there they are.

What did my great-great-grandfather do for a living ?

----- 8 -----

Although he guided many people in and around the Samoëns mountains, he loved to stay in his village.

My great-great-grandmother was quite the opposite. She liked to travel a lot.

Let's continue straight ahead in the direction of "Place des Septs Monts".

Look at the front of the bank.

What kind of transportation did she use
to go on vacation ?

The 3 -----

Oh Gee, look at the time !
I've got to get home and start doing my homework.
